The term "Buyer" as used herein shall mean the party placing an order with the Seller to buy products from the Seller.

Offer of Sale: The products described in this handbook, or described in other of Seller's literature that invokes this Offer of Sale, are offered for sale by the Seller at prices to be determined by Seller. This offer, and the acceptance of this offer by any Buyer, shall be governed in accordance with the terms and conditions hereof. Buyer's Acceptance of this Offer of Sale: The Buyer's order for the products described in this handbook and/or described in other of Seller's literature that invokes this offer of sale, whether conveyed in writing or verbally, shall constitute the acceptance of this offer of sale. The acceptance by the Seller of an offer to purchase by a Buyer is conditional upon the agreement by the Buyer to the terms and conditions of this offer of sale. In all events, the Buyer's acceptance of the products and/or payment for the products shall constitute the Buyer's assent to and acceptance of all of the terms and conditions contained herein, and shall also constitute the Buyer's agreement that the terms and conditions herein supersede any provision contained in any order or other communication from Buyer. Seller hereby objects to any proposed modifications or additional provisions proposed by the Buyer, and any such proposed modifications or additional provisions are hereby rejected and shall not become binding on the Seller unless expressly agreed to in writing by a dually authorized Officer of Seller. However, quantities, dates and places of deliveries and means of transportation are to be fixed by Buyer's purchase orders and Seller's Acknowledgements. No waiver, discharge, or modification of this writing or any of its terms will bind Seller unless done so in writing and signed by an authorized Officer of Seller.

Seller has the right to bill Buyer at any time for any such tax. (we do not have the right to collect taxes for areas outside of the state of Texas.)

No License: The sale of products hereunder by the Seller does not convey any license, expressly or by implication, estoppel or otherwise, to Buyer to use or practice any patent claims of the Seller, except as follows:
